

I tried to tell you a hundred times
Love can kill you and make you cry
I'm not the monster under your bed
I'm just the voices inside your head

Somedays we may go our separate ways, oh
These drugs they get the best of me
Rolling torches underneath the table
These drugs will be the death of me

So kiss me with your marijuana breath
I can be your cure for loneliness
A little something to help you forget

So kiss me with your marijuana breath
I can be your cure for loneliness
A little something to help you forget

It's human nature, it's in our bones
Cause no one wants to be all alone
I'm the darkness behind your eyes
Killing brain cells and killing time

Somedays we may go our separate ways, oh
These drugs they get the best of me
Rolling torches underneath the table
These drugs will be the death of me

So kiss me with your marijuana breath
I can be your cure for loneliness
A little something to help you forget

So kiss me with your marijuana breath
I can be your cure for loneliness
A little something to help you forget

So kiss me with your marijuana breath
I can be your cure for loneliness
A little something to help you forget

(Kiss me with your marijuana breath)
So kiss me with your marijuana breath
I can be your cure for loneliness
A little something to help you forget

(Kiss me with your marijuana breath)
(Kiss me with your marijuana breath)
